

ORGANISTS ONLINE

www.organistsonline.org
(020) 8519 6491

This free to register, free to use, no fees attached website for putting churches and choirs in touch with organists and pianists is now available locally.

Since the beginning of March 2011, Organists Online (which was previously only really available in London and the South East) has been extended to cover the whole of the UK.

There is no charge for registering with Organists Online, no charge for using it (either as an organist/pianist looking for opportunities to play, or a church/choir looking for an accompanist) and no deduction from any fees agreed between organist and client.

When organists register with the site, they say how far they are willing to travel to fulfil a playing request. When requests are placed that fall within that travel radius, the organist is automatically notified.

Clients can also search the database and find organists close to their own location.

Plans are being made to operate Organists Online in this area. So that, when the site is fully operational locally, it is a worthwhile activity for clients to make use of the site, it is necessary to build up a body of local organists to whom notifications will be sent, or who can be found by searching the database.

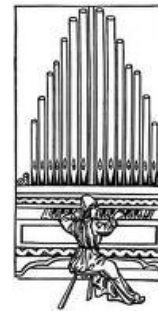

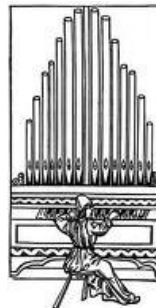

Local organists are being invited, therefore, to register with the site. When a sufficient number are registered - probably 20 or so - information about the site and its potential benefits will be circulated to local choirs and churches.

For further information or to register,
please visit the website

www.organistsonline.org

or contact

Philip Norman (020) 8519 6491

ORGANISTS ONLINE

www.organistsonline.org
(020) 8519 6491

This free to register, free to use, no fees attached website for putting churches and choirs in touch with organists and pianists is now available locally.

Since the beginning of March 2011, Organists Online (which was previously only really available in London and the South East) has been extended to cover the whole of the UK.

There is no charge for registering with Organists Online, no charge for using it (either as an organist/pianist looking for opportunities to play, or a church/choir looking for an accompanist) and no deduction from any fees agreed between organist and client.

When organists register with the site, they say how far they are willing to travel to fulfil a playing request. When requests are placed that fall within that travel radius, the organist is automatically notified.

Clients can also search the database and find organists close to their own location.

Plans are being made to operate Organists Online in this area. So that, when the site is fully operational locally, it is a worthwhile activity for clients to make use of the site, it is necessary to build up a body of local organists to whom notifications will be sent, or who can be found by searching the database.

Local organists are being invited, therefore, to register with the site. When a sufficient number are registered - probably 20 or so - information about the site and its potential benefits will be circulated to local choirs and churches.

For further information or to register,
please visit the website

www.organistsonline.org

or contact

Philip Norman (020) 8519 6491

